Description Hi, guys, due a lot of changes on archlinux, (eg: grub was dropped and grub-2.00 is default bootloader -> http://www.archlinux.org/news/grub-legacy-no-longer-supported/) was created a new iso with support for keyring and the new grub. So, in our case, I keep grub-0.97 package until Parabola new iso creation. That notice about archlinux new iso is here -> http://www.archlinux.org/news/install-media-20120715-released/ Now, that problem is very critical for us, and we should create a new iso to avoid future problems and conflicts on the installation.

- Status changed from open to fixed

There's a new installer image (which I used successfully after manually updating keys) dating from 2013-09-01.

I'm marking this as fixed. New reports should probably go to <https://labs.parabola.nu/projects/isos>
