With `calibre 3.20` the bug persists in my system. No changes since version 3.16.

a quick fix for this is setting vl_tabs_closable to true in ~/.config/calibre/gui.json

I'm not sure why no default setting is picked up for this, it appears to work fine for other settings.

I was having the same issue with calibre-3.20.0-1. Thanks for posting the quick fix! For anyone else having this issue and is unsure of exactly what to type into "~/.config/calibre/gui.json", you can paste the following line in on its own row:

"vl_tabs_closable": true,
