

Packages - Bug #1927

[xfce4] Turning off the computer while XFCE has darkened the screen keeps that brightness on boot

2018-08-03 05:24 PM - ani

Status: open	% Done: 0%
Priority: bug
Assignee:
Category:
Description As the title says, if XFCE is darkening the brightness due to my settings that for example it should darken to 20% if no activity has been made in 40 seconds. This brightness is saved on shutdown and kept on login so the screen is darkened when it should be bright.	