Description Hi, the bug tracker no longer seems to be sending out e-mails for issues that I am watching (for example, this one: [https://labs.parabola.nu/issues/1965]). I am sure it used to send out such e-mails. I have tried unwatching and then clicking on 'watch' again, but it didn't seem to resolve the problem.

redmine was just upgraded about a month ago - this could be a regression - i get email for every single issue and i havent noticed anything strange

I just received several e-mails for two new issues I created today. However, I have not for new posts on #1965 (which I did not create, just watching).
