where do you see 'iceweasel-no-resource-uri-leak'?

what would i need to do or which command would i need to run in order to see that for myself?

#2 - 2019-04-20 01:15 PM - Anonymous

It is from package nonprism/iceweasel-hardened-preferences:
iceweasel-no-resource-uri-leak (virtual) (optional) - Deny resource:// access to Web content (Important)

#3 - 2019-04-20 01:15 PM - Anonymous

Delete this note and note #3.

#5 - 2019-04-20 01:38 PM - freemor

looks like that package was removed as obsolete back in 2017

see: commit 99ab54d028448d1c854dd2b0e715bf09943261be
<https://git.parabola.nu/abslibre.git/commit/?id=99ab54d028448d1c854dd2b0e715bf09943261be>

Looks like he just forget to remove the optional depend

    add iceweasel-no-resource-uri-leak

but according to the repo linter, it is still in the system

built packages with mismatched PKGBUILD digests:

for the list of built packages in the repos, check whether the PKGBUILD digest stored in its .BUILDINFO matches the digest of the PKGBUILD file in abslibre. This check reports an issue whenever a mismatch is found between the PKGBUILD digest stored in the package file and the PKGBUILD in abslibre.
