Description
Hello,
Kodi audio encoder flac package (also vorbis by the way), seems to be incompatible with Kodi: Explanation / how to reproduce: - Install kodi-addon-audioencoder-flac - Restart Kodi - The addon doesn't show in the "right" add-ons folder (not in audio encoder), but is present in the "all" folder, in the subcategorie "my add-ons" - Activate the plugin - Restart Kodi This message appears: "Incompatible add-ons The following add-ons are incompatible with this version of Kodi and have been automatically disabled: Flac Audio Encoder." I suppose this version of encoder is for the last kodi version "Leia", is it possible to keep an old version of the plugin (compatible with kodi 17.6-5) in the repository? Regards, Baptiste

~~Might be due to the fact that I recently rebuilt Kodi but did not rebuild the add-ons they may be needing a rebuild too.~~

Nope those are all in Community so we do not package those..

A better plan would be to bring Kodi current
