Description
The package icecat contains a search engine by default which does no longer exist.
The engine is Logless Search. It redirects to an empty "logless.com" placeholder page. The related domain likely expired.
Attached screenshot shows the "logless.com" page.

It is related to mozilla-searchplugins package, not icecat. I will assignee this task for lukeshu due that is the mozilla-searchplugins's maintainer.
