Description The PKGBUILD declares the license as GPL3 and "builds" the package by downloading and installing an appropriate arch-specific binary package. We should change it to build the package from source.

Is necessary to update maven-libre in [libre] repo to built glsif-libre due that is a building dependency. i checked it and the last version of this package is in [java-ugly]. I think that lukeshu is the maintainer of maven-libre. I will tell to him about it.
