Hi,

If you want to use Wireguard, and you use a kernel > 5.6, then you don't need to install the wireguard-lts package. It was for older LTS kernel (hence the error you got). Now that the current LTS one is 5.10, this package is unnecessary.

- Status changed from unconfirmed to confirmed

- Description updated

- Subject changed from unable to satisfy dependency 'linux-libre-lts=5.4.78' required by wireguard-lts to [wireguard-lts]: unable to satisfy dependency 'linux-libre-lts=5.4.78' so the solution is to delete the 'wireguard-lts' package from the system?

Yes I guess since the linux-libre-lts in the repo is recent enough.
