Yet another Electron cr...app.
To add insult to injury, I can confirm it's proprietary.

Obsidian is not open source software and this repo DOES NOT contain the source code of Obsidian. However, if you wish to contribute to Obsidian, you can easily do so with our extensive plugin system. A plugin guide can be found here:
<https://marcus.se.net/obsidian-plugin-docs/>

this comes from <https://github.com/obsidianmd/obsidian-releases> please blacklist this, as well as community/electron18 and community/electron19.

- Status changed from unconfirmed to confirmed

Strangely obsidian is already blacklisted: <https://git.parabola.nu/blacklist.git/tree/blacklist.txt>

But somehow it still shows up in the community repository.

So maybe the blacklist system is broken since quite some time (like at least the 30 November 2022).
