Description
Using librejs, i seen absolutely no javascript with a license on this website. It blocked various scripts for not having a license or being nontrivial, and it allowed some for these reasons: "Script appears to be trivial but defines functions." "Script appears to be trivial". Please put free javascript to a free distrobution's website.

duplicate of #105 (10 years ago) - someone just needs to do the work the captcha is probably the only javascript written by a parabola dev - all other parabola websites are external projects: redmine, mediawiki, cgit, etc - this bug tracker is redmine
