Why? it was built against our jquery 2.1.0, even thunderbird/icedove are adapted to build against prebuild javascript objects inside the source (it has jquery 1.6.4). We have put those packages (jquery and jquery-ui) because debian guys have remove prebuild javascript objects from upstream and patched it to use from jquery and jquery-ui system.

Sorry, please let me withdraw the patch.

At first, my build was succeeded only with jquery-2.1.0 .
However, I have just checked this again today and confirmed the build with 1.6.4 is also OK.

thx. Taro
