I have update the wiki, please try, that should fix the keyring issue and by the way this one too.

your-freedom is present on the repo.

Because I shut down, I'm at a grub prompt -- that is beyond my skill at this moment.

Suffice to say that the server addresses looked very different from the current repo addresses, and may be old, considering that parabelagnulinux.org is included among them.

As to why this and <https://labs.parabola.nu/issues/614> are happening, I would like to investigate, especially if the wiki needs a few more hints to help along the process.

That was fast aurelien :)

I'll try again and follow up.

Yes, this became a non issue when #614 was fixed. --force was not necessary. I should add that I was sure to overwrite the old pacman.conf file after pacman -S pacman. I don't think it will work otherwise.
