

Installation Media - Bug #653

Splitting Parabolaiso.git into 3 branches would be required.

| Current "master" branch is indeed X11-icewm. Splitting and cleansing's needed. | | | |
| - master | | | |
| - X11+icewm (Jorginho) | | | |
| - TalkingParabola | | | |
| ... Possibly other X11 flavours | | | |

keeping multiple branches per-image is problematic for packaging - in recent years all configs have been kept on the master branch and the 'parabolaiso' package was replaced with the 'parabolaiso-git' package but this complicates the merging/patching branch schema that was the original intention

this year the parabolaiso scripts have been modified to consolidate the image configurations, allowing for selecting any combinations of init systems, wm/desktops, and netinstall vs offline install via command line args

this is now less problematic for the existing merging/patching branch schema and makes restoring the 'parabolaiso' package possible and more reasonable because a 'parabolaiso-git' package is not otherwise necessary as updates to this package are very rare
